Theme: ‘Organic Forms’ – Mixed Media

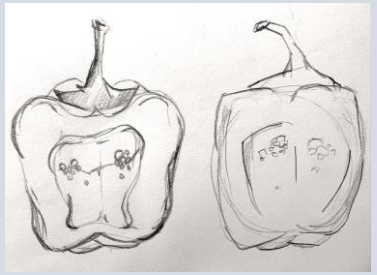

I started exploring this the organic form through with observational sketches, preparatory work and experimentation on vegetation with different media.

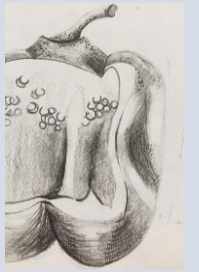

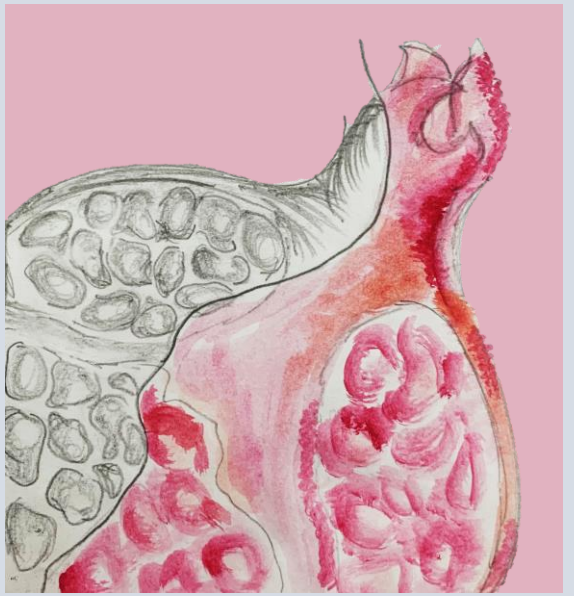

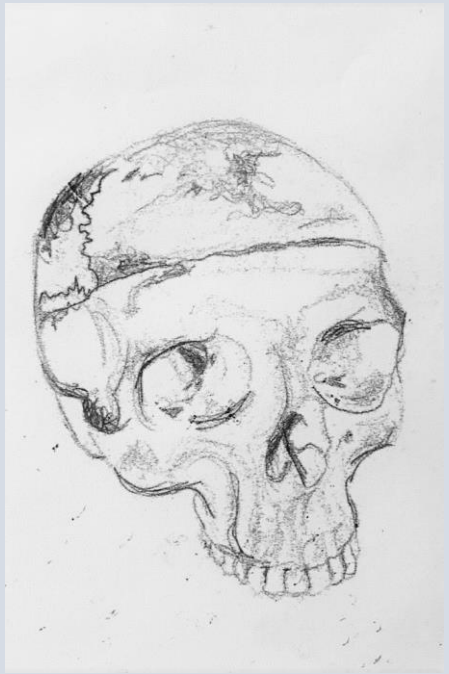

Theme: 'Organic Forms' – Observational Drawings

I wanted to build upon my mixed media experimentation with other types of 'Organic Forms' such as skeletal remains. My inspiration originated from the beauty of decaying forms of vegetation which I then wanted to apply to other natural forms.

Graphic Experimentation - Using Photoshop and Photography

The text in the photos is from TS Eliot's "The Waste Land" a breath-taking poem written in 1922. I was inspired by the symbolism of 'no water' and repetition of 'rock' and decided to experiment with typography to create a small series of graphic works influenced by the following section of the poem.

V. WHAT THE THUNDER SAID

After the torch-light red on sweaty faces
After the frosty silence in the gardens
After the agony in stony places
The shouting and the crying
Prison and place and reverberation
Of thunder of spring over distant mountains
He who was living is now dead
We who were living are now dying
With a little patience

Here is no water but only rock
Rock and no water and the sandy road
The road winding above among the mountains
Which are mountains of rock without water
If there were water we should stop and drink
Amongst the rock one cannot stop or think
Sweat is dry and feet are in the sand
If there were only water amongst the rock
Dead mountain mouth of carious teeth that cannot spit
Here one can neither stand nor lie nor sit
There is not even silence in the mountains
But dry sterile thunder without rain
There is not even solitude in the mountains
But red sullen faces sneer and snarl
From doors of mud-cracked houses
If there were water
And no rock
If there were rock
And also water
And water
A spring
A pool among the rock
If there were the sound of water only
Not the cicada
And dry grass singing
But sound of water over a rock
Where the hermit-thrush sings in the pine trees
Drip drop drip drop drop drop drop
But there is no water
